The 2013 SWIM Across the Sound was the toughest SWIM challenge to date for our swimmers due to head winds and choppy conditions. The SWIM Officials were forced to move up escort boats missing two consecutive milestones. In general, the times were at least 2 hours slower than any other year. The average time over the past 5 years for the top solo and team relays, was 7 hours and 1 minute and 5 hours and 27 minutes. This year, the top solo swimmer finished in 9 hours 20 minutes while the top team relay finished in 7 hours and 19 minutes.
